In the case of a default of a loan, provision of section 71(2) of the Credit Union Act 1997 allows a credit union to disclose a member's account information where the Central Bank of Ireland is of the opinion that doing so is necessary to protect shareholder or depositor funds or to safeguard the interests of the credit union.

Under the "Return of Payments (Banks, Building Societies, Credit Unions and Savings Banks) Regulations 2008" credit unions are obliged to report details to the Revenue in respect of dividend or interest payments to members, which include PPSN where held.

Public interest

The processing of personal data for the purposes of the prevention of money laundering and terrorist financing is considered to be a matter of public interest <https://eur-lex.europa.eu/legal-content/EN/TXT/?uri=celex%3A32018L0843>

Legitimate interest

Legitimate Interests means the interests of the Credit Union in conducting and managing our business to enable us to give you the best service and the best and most secure experience.

When we process your personal data based on our legitimate interests, we carefully consider the impact on you, and uphold your rights under data protection laws to objective where applicable. Our legitimate business interests do not automatically take precedence over yours. We refrain from using your Personal Data for activities that would negatively impact you unless we have your consent or we are legally required or permitted to do so.

Outlined below are the ways we process your data for our legitimate interests. If you have any concerns about this processing, you have the right to object. For more information on your rights, please refer to the "Your Rights" section below.

Processing of your personal data may be necessary for the purposes of a legitimate interest pursued by us in any of the following:

To develop and execute the strategy

- To develop and implement the current and future strategy. Assess the current and future performance, as this enables the credit union to improve its services to the members.
- To maintain financial stability and ensure long-term growth.
- By analyzing member data, the credit union can better understand member needs, optimize product offerings, and enhance operational efficiency. This not only helps meet regulatory requirements but also supports the credit union's mission to serve its members responsibly and sustainably, fostering a strong, member-centric financial institution.

To offer our loan products

- Use of Credit Assessment and Credit Reference Agencies as Credit Union must lend responsibly. We will use your credit scoring information in order to determine your suitability for the loan applied for. When using the service of a credit referencing agency, we will pass them your personal details and details of your credit performance.
- In carrying out our loan underwriting, we capture and use a range of Personal Data in order to assess factors affecting those risks, for example age, location and claims history.
- As part the loan underwriting process we may access third-party databases or publications as stated in Section 7. We carry out searches in order to assess your credit worthiness to repay a loan, for our own benefit and therefore the benefit of its members, we must lend responsibly and will use your credit scoring information in order to determine your suitability for the loan applied for. In carrying out such a search we can better determine your overall financial position in order to lend to you.
- Share your member data with Account Information Services Provide (AISP) to facilitate the online loan approval process when the member authorises us to do so.
- Where a member breaches the loan agreement the Credit Union may access third-party databases as stated in Section 7 and use the service of a debt collection agency, solicitors or other third parties to obtain updated contact information for you to recover the debt.
- Where the Credit Union is using a third party to assist with recouping any outstanding debt due to us by you, the Credit Union may provide your specific personal data held on file by us, which is necessary, to the third party such as a debt collector, tracing agent, private investigator, or a solicitor to perform their services. We may provide then with details of the indebtedness in order that they recover the outstanding sums. We will take the necessary steps to recover a debt to protect the assets and equity of the Credit Union.
- Tracing agency, where the address you have provided is no longer accurate and the Credit Union needs to either contact you or provide you with documentation in relation to the products or services you have obtained from us.
- Use of a Private Investigator to locate the member in the event that they fail to make repayments on member loan and/or fail to make contact with the credit union when required. We will first investigate all other less invasive means to make contact with the member.
- Where a member is not responding to correspondence from the Credit Union at their most recent verified address, the credit union may send correspondence to any other address provided by the member, for example, a different address stated on a bank statement provided as part of the loan assessment. This will only occur if the Credit Union deems it necessary, such as, default in a loan where the Credit Union has exhausted other communication channels provided by the member.

General operations

- Use of CCTV on our premises to safeguard the health, safety and security of all resources

- To safeguard the safety and security of the employees, IT systems and devices, property, and member, buildings, information located or stored on the premises, and assets, and those of service providers, consultants, and advisors that assist the Credit Union in carrying out its functions.
- In the prevention and detection of fraud
- To keep members informed about the services the Credit Union are currently providing.
- The Credit Union may in the future wish to sell, transfer or merge part or all of its business or assets or to buy a new business or the assets of another Credit Union or enter into a merger with another Credit Union. If so, we may disclose your personal information under strict duties of confidentiality to a potential Credit Union and their advisers, so long as they agree to keep it confidential and to use it only to consider the possible transaction. If the transaction goes ahead, the new Credit Union may use or disclose your personal information in the same way as set out in this Privacy Notice. You will be informed about any mergers prior to your data being shared

9 What happens if you do not provide us with the data if legal basis is contract or compliance

Where lawful basis is a statutory or contractual requirement, if a member is obliged to provide the personal data, failure to provide this information may result in us being unable to provide a member saving account or provide a member a loan or other services.

10 What is the purpose (s) for processing your data

We are a financial co-operative formed to allow members to save and lend to each other at fair and reasonable rates of interest. We are a not-for-profit organisation with a volunteer ethos and community focus. We process your data to provide this service.

You agree that any data you provide to us will be true, complete and accurate in all respects and you agree to notify us immediately of any changes to it. See section 24 if you need to inform us of a change. We will only collect personal information from or about you which is necessary for the following purposes:

We will only use your personal information for the purposes for which we collected it unless we reasonably consider that we need to use it for another purpose and that purpose is compatible with the original purpose. If we need to use your personal information for an unrelated purpose, we will notify you and we will explain the basis which allows us to do so.

A. All Members (Joint, Club, Business)

The credit union may contact the member, where it is necessary, regarding services it provides or to inform the member of relevant changes to the existing service where such changes occur. The credit union will select the most appropriate method of media such as email, letter, phone, SMS for each situation. Such communication is deemed "essential" to the terms of the service and such communication will not constitute marketing.

- To provide and administer our member accounts per the terms of service under contract as stated in Section 8
- To meet our legal and compliance obligations and requirements under the Rules of the Credit Union, Central Bank Regulations, Anti money laundering and any other relevant compliance as stated under compliance in Section 8 for all services provided

11 What you need to do when you provide us with other individuals information data

If you are providing personal information on behalf of a third party, you must ensure that the third party receives a copy of this Privacy Notice before their personal information is shared with us (e.g., spouse, minors, Related Parties as defined in the Credit Union handbook). Before you disclose general information or joint account information (where you are one of the joint account holders) to us about another person, you should be sure that you have their agreement to do so.

In the event, you are providing financial information from a third party to be used as part of the loan assessment application, written authorisation confirming you have provided them with a copy of this Privacy Notice should be provided to us before we can use the third parties' data, in advance of submission of the application .

Where you are providing a name of a nominee to your shares, the nominee does not need to be informed until such time as they will receive the funds.

You do not need to provide this Privacy Notice in the following situations

- the individual already has the information
- obtaining or disclosure such information is expressly laid down in the law to which the credit union must comply and which provides appropriate measures to protect the individual's legitimate interests
- where the personal data must remain confidential subject to an obligation of professional secrecy regulated by law

12 How we protect your data

We collect this data in a transparent way and only with the full knowledge of interested parties. Once this information is available to us, the following rules apply.

Our data will be:

- Accurate and kept up-to-date
- Collected fairly and for lawful purposes only
- Processed by us on the basis of either a valid contract, consent, legal compliance or legitimate interest
- Protected against any unauthorised access or illegal processing by internal or external parties.

Our data will not be:

- Communicated to any unauthorised internal or external parties
- Stored for longer than required for the purpose obtained
- Transferred to organisations, states or countries outside the European Economic Area without adequate safeguards being put in place as required under Data Protection Law.

Our commitment to protect your data:

- Restrict and monitor access to sensitive data
- Develop transparent data collection procedures
- Train employees in data protection and security measures
- Build secure networks to protect online data from cyberattacks
- Establish clear procedures for reporting privacy breaches or data misuse
- Establish data protection practices (document shredding, secure locks, data encryption, frequent backups (either on premise or the cloud), access authorisation etc.).

13 How our third-party providers protect your data

We only engage with third-party service providers who provide sufficient guarantees to protect your data following our instructions and are bound by a data processing agreement.

14 How we use your information as a member for Marketing

As part of improving our service to you, from time to time, we would like to inform you of goods, services, competitions and/or promotional offers available from us. We may wish to use different means when sending such marketing communications.

We may use your personal information to make you aware of products and services which may be of interest to you. We can do this by using some of the personal information we hold about you to better understand your needs. It includes information you tell us and information we collect when you use our products or services. This information helps us to understand which products, services and offers may be relevant for you based on your profile. It is in our and our member' interests to use personal information this way to better understand our members' needs and preferences so that we can create more tailored and suitable marketing messages. We will use the following information about you to enable us to plan our marketing campaigns for examples:

- Types of loans
- Your spending and saving habits
- Use transaction history/ account information
- Insurance or assurance linked to a product

- Previous interactions with marketing communications e.g opens, reads, clicks

We can reach out to you with this information in all sorts of ways:

- through Mobile App
- by e-mail
- SMS
- post
- telephone

We will share your data with third parties' software and marketing providers so that they may send you messaging on our behalf.

Opt in

Where you have consented to marketing by opting in to marketing, we will send you marketing.

You have a right to notify us free of charge at any time that you wish to refuse such marketing by writing to us at our address at the top of this document, or emailing GDPR@ballinasloecreditunion.ie or by using the "opt-out" options in any marketing message we send you.

15 How we use your information for Surveys

We would like the opportunity to understand your experiences with us and to monitor the performance and effectiveness of our delivery of products and services to you. We would like to assess the quality of our member services. We promise to listen to our members and to adapt to the recommendations provided to ensure our members are receiving the best quality service from your own credit union. From time to time, we may conduct member satisfaction surveys. Where we do so we rely on the lawful processing of legitimate interest to enhance our service delivery. A withdrawal option will be provided in all survey communication thereafter.

16 How we use Automated Processing or "Analytics"

Automated processing

We use systems to make automated decisions based on personal information we have – or are allowed to collect from others – about you or your organisation. When you apply for a loan, we use data from different sources to look at your ability to repay the loan. We also use information provided by you and information from third parties such as credit reference agencies. The information we process for automated lending decisions includes Income, financial statements, transaction history, salary, spending and bills, credit rating, other loans held by you.

You can object to a decision based on automated processing, you can contact us at GDPR@ballinasloecreditunion.ie.

We do not conduct automated decisions which produces legal effects concerning any of our members.

Profiling

We do not conduct profiling on children.

We are committed to protecting your privacy and ensuring transparency in how we use your personal data. As part of our ongoing efforts to provide tailored services and improve our offerings, we may use profiling to assess your financial behaviour and preferences. Profiling allows us to better understand your needs, conduct loan assessments, recommend relevant products or services, and manage risks effectively.

What is Profiling?

Profiling involves the automated processing of your personal data to evaluate certain aspects of your financial behaviour. This may include analysing your transaction history, loan activity, savings patterns, or other interactions with the credit union. Profiling helps us make informed decisions on creditworthiness, fraud prevention, and personalised offers.

We do not conduct profiling which produces legal effects concerning any of our members.

You have the right to object to the use of your personal data for profiling purposes. If you wish to exercise this right, you can contact us at GDPR@ballinasloecreditunion.ie, and we will review your request.

Lodge a complaint

Can I lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Commission?

You can lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Commission in respect of any processing by or on behalf of the Credit Union of personal data relating to you.

How do I lodge a complaint?

Making a complaint is simple and free. All you need to do is write to the Data Protection Commission giving details about the matter. You should clearly identify the organisation or individual you are complaining about. You should also outline the steps you have taken to have your concerns dealt with by the organisation, and what sort of response you received from them. Please also provide copies of any letters between you and the organisation, as well as supporting evidence/material.

What happens after I make the complaint?

The Data Protection Commission will then take the matter up with the Credit Union on your behalf.

Access your data

When do I have the right to access my personal data from the Credit Union?

Where the Credit Union process any personal data relating to you, you have the right to obtain confirmation of same from us, and to have access to your data.

What information will the Credit Union provide to me?

If we are processing your personal data, you are entitled to access a copy of all such personal data processed by us subject to a verification process to ensure we are communicating with the correct person. We will provide any of the following information:

- the length of time we will hold your data or if not possible, the criteria used to determine that period
- your rights to:
 - request any changes to inaccurate personal data held by us
 - have your personal data deleted on all our systems

- restriction of processing of personal data concerning you
- to object to such processing
- data portability
- your right to lodge a complaint with the Data Protection Commission info@dataprotection.ie
- where we have collected your personal data from a third party, we will provide you with the information as to our source of your personal data
- any automated decision-making, including profiling which includes your personal data. We will provide you with meaningful information about the logic involved, as well as the significance and the envisaged consequences of such processing for you.

What Information is not provided?

- Business Information pertaining to your role as an employee
- If we do not provide you with your personal data, we have an obligation to give reasons why this personal data is being withheld.

How long will it take to receive my personal data from the Credit Union?

We will provide you with a copy of the personal data we are currently processing within one month of request. In rare situations if we are unable to provide you with the data within one month we will notify you, within one month of your valid request, explaining the reason for the delay and will commit to delivery within a further two months.

How much will it cost me to receive my personal data?

We will not charge for providing your personal data unless we believe the request is excessive and the cost of providing your data is disproportionate to your services provided.

Can I request additional copies of my personal data?

If you require additional copies, we will charge €20 to cover our administrative costs.

Can I receive my personal data electronically?

You can request your personal data by electronic means and we will provide your personal data in a commonly used electronic form if technically feasible.

What will the Credit Union do if another person's personal data is shared with my personal data?
